Short Doc and Q&A about Trauma-Informed Reporting

In today's fast-paced media landscape, coverage of traumatic events often prioritizes sensationalism over empathy, leaving behind a trail of grief and fear. This short documentary screening and Q&A will explore how journalists can practice trauma-informed reporting. Panelists include Yvonne Latty and Jim MacMillan from the Logan Center for Urban Investigative Reporting at Temple University, and gun violence survivor Oronde McClain (Philadelphia Center for Gun Violence Reporting). The Q&A will be led by Professors Azadeh Moaveni and Hilke Schellmann.
